

On March 14, 2018, more than 1,000 students—by the Chicago Tribune’s estimate—walked out of school to protest legislative inaction on gun control, school safety, and mental health exactly one month after the school shooting that killed 17 in Parkland, Florida.

